The design of the resort was inspired by the cultural heritage and history of St. Croix and the Virgin Islands:

-Red roofs reflect St. Croix's Danish heritage

-British inspired in-room screened porches

-Spanish Colonial mahogany woodwork

-Creole symmetry and central entrance

-French inspired louvered windows

In design, architect William Cox has captured the spirit of a Caribbean-fishing village, with cool spaces, promenades and patios that offer a delightful mixture of privacy and sociability.
