Beyond What We Expected!!

Home is super clean, bright and oceanfront! Bedrooms are very clean, comfortable and baths updated and impressive. One tradition that appears to be rolling on is family's leave extra liquor and additional drinks that perhaps that can't bring home!! We contributed happily as well w Makers Mark, Tito's and supporting beverages. Also, very safe and if you love walking on streets it is fully paved...and seems to be very popular form of exercise for residents and guests. BTW neighbors say this is a celebrity get away (not saying names for privacy reasons). Great vacation....and beautiful home and supporting features!!

SRL

The property was as indicated as the other reviews as it being well stocked. We had some major issues with the water the first three days, the plumbers did come out on day one. Day two no water pressure to take showers, The plumbers came out again Day three we ran out of water and the plumbers came again. They were ordered more water in which took a half the day I just felt like everything should've been checked out the day before we got there, so we didn't have these issues when we arrived. All the power went out the next day, and it would be nice if I would've have received a text or email explaining that it was island wide instead of me having to contact them I felt like the communication was lacking. After everything was fixed, we did have a wonderful trip and the property is beautiful

Comfortable Stay

We spent four weeks in this property and had an easy and comfortable stay. David and his team are attentive hosts and quick to assist with anything that's needed. The pool was a hit with the kids, but be mindful of the breeze (which is always there) as it blows floating tubes etc... out of the pool and into some bramble-like shrubs causing punctures. We loved hunting for shells on the beach and watching the surfers. The swimming isn't great on this side of the peninsula, but having the beach right at the backdoor is excellent for sand lovers. This is a wonderful community for children to be in and we felt extremely safe during our stay. The guard house definitely takes their job seriously regarding who they let pass or not. The rooms were comfortable and well stocked with towels and extra bedding. In the master there isn't a place to hang a longer dress/skirt, only drawers, shelves and a small upper cupboard to hang things in, but the other two bedrooms do have walk-in closets and plenty of room to hang a longer garment if necessary. During our stay we upgraded the coffee maker and the toaster (we needed more than two cups of coffee at a time), but the kitchen has everything that you would require during your stay. It is a central location, definitely requiring a rental vehicle, but it's easy to access anything that you wish to see on the island from this location. All in all, it was a wonderful stay at #71 Judith's Fancy!
